Our market was from $7 higher to $3 lower on the calf market and was steady on packer cows. It seems that we are having a hard time deciding how the market is going. Most sale barns are having short runs and it is hard to tell what is happening. Some sales will be several dollars up and the next will be several dollars down. What I am trying to say is if you have cattle that are ready to sell, move them to the market. I don't think that holding and waiting for the market to recover is that good of an idea. Give us a call if we can help!
